

Shelton Public Schools

Learning and Growing

Ayars & Ayars, Inc. was chosen to implement a K-12 library addition for the Shelton Public School District. This library addition, classroom and administration remodel created a central axis and focal point for the entry of the school. Two entries were developed to separate the elementary and secondary student body. The library and the distance-learning laboratory provided a stimulating learning environment for the students. A comfortable, modern, well-lit library encourages students to read and learn from the resources a school library can provide. Material and construction techniques used in this project allowed the district to save money it was spending on an older, less efficient facility.
